DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. 5,183,843 (Sakai et al) as per reasons of record.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed December 17, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Firstly, it is maintained that it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have employed a metal salt of behenic acid because Sakai et al clearly disclose metal salts of behenic acid as useful at column 6, line 11. Metal salts of behenic acid clearly fall within the scope of applicants' claims as evidenced by new claim 6. Secondly, even if Sakai et al did not clearly disclose behenic acid, since patentees teach that metal salts of an acid having 26 carbons may be used, it is maintained that it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to employ a metal salt of an acid having 25 carbons, which meets applicants upper limit of carbon atoms. Applicants have not presented any evidence which establishes that a metal salt of acid having 25 carbons is different in any way from the metal salt of acid having 26 carbons of patentees', unexpectedly or otherwise. When the claimed range and the prior art range are very similar (i.e., 25 versus 26), the range of the prior art establishes prima facie obviousness because one of ordinary skill in the art would have expected the similar ranges to have the same properties. In re Peterson, 65 USPQ 1379. Applicants' reliance on the experimental data of record comparing a metal salt of an acid having 28 carbons with one derived from an acid having 22 carbons is not probative of unexpected results for the claims as presently recited.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

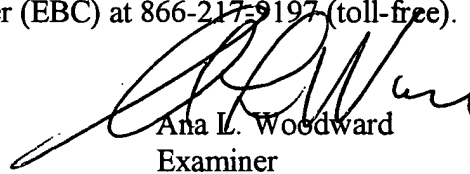

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
